ITALY ON VERGE OF ENTERING WAR

Bloodiest Battle of the War Now
Raging in the Carpathians

LONDON, March 24.—A British air raid on Hoboken, near Antwerp, where the Germans are constructing submarines, another threatened effort by Germany in Flanders and heavy fighting in the Carpathians, are the outstanding features in today's war news.

Five British airmen started from Dunkirk to raid the submarine yards, but only two reached the mark. Two were turned back by thick weather and the third landed at Holland because of engine trouble.

According to the British admiralty report two of the five submarines observed on ships were damaged and the works set afire. Dutch frontier dispatches say seven German airmen attacked British raiders, but were outwitted.

It is reported that the Germans are preparing for another supreme effort in Flanders. Already there has been considerable fighting along Yper, the Germans having bombarded Newport and Dixmude, while Belgians have made progress along both banks of the river.

A real battle is in progress between Duklapass and Usackpas, in the Carpathians, where the Russians claim to have captured a number of Austrians. Austrian correspondents declare the battle is likely to continue for some time.

The Austrians developed a fresh offensive, throwing back and claiming they have driven the Russians back toward the frontier.

On the extreme wing of the eastern front the Germans have reoccupied Memel with the assistance of their warships, which bombarded the roads by which the Russians were falling back.

Unfavorable weather is interfering with the operations in the Dardanelles.

AUSTRIA PREPARING FOR WAR WITH ITALY

GENEVA, March 24.—The Austrian government now considers war with Italy more than probable, according to the dispatches received here from Vienna. A large number of troops have arrived at Tyrol and Trieste, where defensive works are being constructed.

The Geneva Tribune professes to have received advice to the effect that the Dual Monarchy might consider the signing of a separate peace with Russia without consulting Germany and offering as a concession to cede to Russia large portions of Galicia.

An uncensored dispatch from the Austrian border says that Austrian military engineers have dynamited all the buildings between Sugana pass in Trent and Lake Guard on the Italian frontier, which will be in the line of artillery fire. The eastern part of town of Rovereto is reported to have been abandoned and all the buildings torn down. All persons suspected of pro-Italian sympathies have been sent into the interior to be interned.

Italy ordered the seizure yesterday at Luino, near the Swiss border, of twenty-nine freight cars containing graphite, sulphur and other supplies said to have been destined for the Krupp gun works at Essen in Germany. The Tribune reports that the Italian agent at Luino was arrested charged with purchasing materials.

ITALY IS GETTING READY TO STRIKE

ROME, March 24.—Commenting favorably upon the adjournment of the chamber of deputies, Gloriano Prifta says every deputy is now convinced of the necessity for Italy to act energetically, "fading any sacrifice, even human, struggle, to realize Italian aspirations."

The paper adds: "With full liberty of action granted by parliament the government is now free to choose, way, means and hour of using the weapons with its disposal with firmness and prudence necessary to insure success. The country is calm and disciplined, ready for everything."

Dedicates Exposition.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—Vice President Marshall, representing the president of the United States today formally dedicated the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. He delivered an address, which was heard by a vast concourse of people.

Desires to Live as God Intended
And Asks Help From the Chief Executive

Special to The Intelligencer.

COLUMBIA, March 24.—Governor Manning has received the following letter: "New York city, 3-22-1915. Hon. Richard I. Manning, Columbia, S. C. Most Excellent Sir: I am writing you this letter upon the suggestion of Mr. Arthur V. Williams of Charleston and humbly beg you to give it your kind consideration.

"A little over 10 years ago when a boy of not more than 15 years of age it was my misfortune to be convicted of arson in the city of Charleston and as a result I have served nearly 10 years in the penitentiary of your State. Just what caused the deplorable state of mind I was in at the time, I am unable to say, but will state truthfully that I have never committed a willful criminal act in my life, and now having suffered, and served my sentence it is my desire to live my life as God Almighty intended, and it is to this end I humbly beseech your assistance. As I said before, I want to live the life of a man, but can hardly do so with the privilege of citizenship, and it is this favor that I ask of you. After leaving Columbia I worked in Charleston for about nine months and can furnish references from not only my former employers but from the many people in Charleston, all of whom have been more than kind to me. Citizenship to me is an ideal worth striving for and if you will aid me by granting this humble plea I assure you it will aid me greatly in feeling that fight for existence is worth while. Trusting you will see fit to give this your consideration I beg to assure you I am, Yours very respectfully, Raymond S. Bowman, 155 West 46th street, New York city."

To which the governor replied as follows: "I beg to acknowledge yours of the 22nd inst. Please tell me at what term of which court you were tried, what judge presided, who was the solicitor, what was the term of your sentence and did you serve it out. As soon as I have this information I can proceed with your case."

Americans Betting on Jack Johnson
HAVANA, March 24.—Warm weather today gave Jack Johnson and J. J. Willard the first opportunity for several days to train in open air for the battle for the world's heavy weight championship on April fourth. Americans have begun to bet on Johnson, offering small sums at eleven to five. Thus far there is only a fair demand for seats.

MASS OF CONFLICTING TESTIMONY GIVEN

Miss Rae Tanzer Arraigned for Hearing on Charge of Using Mails to Defraud

NEW YORK, March 24.—A mass of conflicting testimony was given today before United States Commissioner Houghton when Miss Rae Tanzer, who recently brought suit against James W. Osborne, former assistant district attorney, for alleged breach of promise, was arraigned for hearing. The proceedings will be concluded tomorrow. The commissioner will then decide whether Miss Tanzer, who is charged with using mails to defraud, will be held for the grand jury. The charge is based on a bundle of letters she is alleged to have mailed to Osborne, whom she says she knew as Oliver Osborne, prior to the time she filed suit asking for fifty thousand dollars.

Two of Miss Tanzer's sisters identified Osborne. They said he claimed to be a California ranchman. They said Rae later told them she had discovered it was James W. Osborne, a Plainfield, New Jersey, hotel clerk identified Osborne as the man who registered with a woman as O. Osborne and wife.

The proprietor of the same hotel testified absolutely that it was not James Osborne. Osborne, testifying, denied emphatically that he had ever seen Rae Tanzer or any of her letters. He denied that he had ever been in the Plainfield hotel.

Mrs. Osborne sat beside her husband in court.

Three of Allies' Battleships Sunk by the Turks in Dardanelles.

In the naval battle of Thursday in the Dardanelles, between the greatest force of warships ever engaged in a pitched battle with forts, three vessels of the allies' fleet were sunk—the Irresistible and the Ocean, British ships of the second and third class, and the Bouvet, a French battleship of the second class.

They went down, however, not as a result of the attack by the guns of the forts. Drifting mines let loose in the narrow straits above them swept down on them, and explosions resulted. So far it has not been explained why the admirals in charge did not take precautions against such attack.

The Irresistible was a 5,500-ton ship, built in 1902. She carried 750 men. Her largest guns were of 12-inch calibre, so they could not shoot as far as those of the new super-dreadnought Queen Elizabeth, which has done most of the damage to Dardanelles forts.

The Ocean was a battleship of 12,150 tons, built in 1909. She carried 750 men. Her guns were also of 12-inch calibre.

MANUFACTURING MUCH EVIDENCE

Will Be Used By Defense in Ter-
Haute Election Fraud
Trial

BIG BATTLE WILL SOON BE WAGED

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Much evidence has been manufactured for the defense's use in the Ter-Haute election fraud trial here, according to the testimony today of Edward Holler, Terre Haute, chief of police, one of those who pleaded guilty conspiracy in the indictment. Defense counsel introduced the police entry in Holler's handwriting of a number of men arrested on election day. Holler asserted that the entry was made more than a month after the election at the request of Mayor Roberts, Sheriff Shea, City Judge Smith and Street Inspector Acelt spent tonight in jail as a result of failure to give additional bonds on charges preferred today by Federal Judge Anderson at attempting to corrupt government witnesses.

BIG BATTLE WILL SOON BE WAGED

Carranza and Villa Forces Marching Toward Matamoros Where a Bloody Fight is Expected

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Today's reports to the state department from Mexican agencies told of a pending battle for the possession of Matamoros, across the Rio Grande from Brownsville, which apparently will be the scene of the first real fight of Villa's campaign against the Mexican east coast.

Some dispatches indicate that skirmishing has occurred. The department's Brownsville dispatch announced that Villa forces, eight thousand strong were marching against Matamoros.

The Carranza agency statement said the citizens of Matamoros at a public mass meeting determined to support the Carranza commander, who is said to have three thousand men, entrenched armed with artillery and machine guns.

GERMAN AEROPLANE ATTACKS RELIEF SHIP

United States Government Will Call Germany's Attention to Attack

ANOTHER EFFORT TO SAVE BECKER

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The United States government today decided to call the attention of the German government to the bomb attack reported to have been recently made by a German Aeroplane on the Belgian relief commission steamship Elfrida in the vicinity of the Dutch coast. American Minister Vandyke, in a message to the State department, said representations concerning the incident had already been made to Berlin by the Netherlands. Mr. Vandyke reported that the Elfrida laden with foodstuffs flew the commission's flag. A German aviator dropped five bombs, one falling so near that fragments of a bursting shell were strewn over the Elfrida.

ANOTHER EFFORT TO SAVE BECKER

Court Asked to Give New York
Murderer Another Chance
for His Life

ALBANY, March 24.—Another effort to save the life of Charles Becker, under death sentence for instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, will be made, before the New York court of appeals today. Martin Mantou attorney for Becker, asked the court to reverse the judgment of conviction returned in the second trial and give Becker another chance to defend himself before a jury. Mantou will conclude his argument tomorrow, after which the State will be heard in opposition to a new trial.

Mrs. Becker was in court and took frequent notes. Mantou particularly attacked the testimony of James Marshall, a negro witness at the second trial, who obtained prominence through conflicting affidavits concerning what he knew of the Rosenthal killing.

CADET PARADE A BIG FEATURE

Corps Review on Public Square in Afternoon—Band Concert.
Reception by Ladies Last Night at Theatre

Principal features of the second day's program of the Clemson College cadet encampment in Anderson was the parade and band concert yesterday afternoon and the reception tendered the visitors last night by the ladies of Anderson. Both events were thoroughly enjoyed and highly successful, considered from every angle, and it would be hard indeed to picture a more pleasurable day or a busier one for Anderson.

Parade a Feature

The usual order of exercises were gone through with yesterday morning at Camp Riggs, after which the cadets were at leisure until time to assemble for the parade of the afternoon. Forming at Camp Riggs at 4 o'clock, the parade moved down North Main street, headed by the cadet band, to the public square. Formation was in column of squads, and when the cadets reached the square they swung round by the west side of the plaza and moved down South Main street as far as River street. Here the parade turned and moved back to South Main street, and across the square in front of the court house. From the steps of the court house Col. J. M. Cummings, commandant of cadets, reviewed the parade. He had invited the mayor and members of city council to review the parade with him, and there to gather with members of the paving commission, who were invited by council, assembled on the west steps of the court house with the commandant.

As the parade moved back across the square, the band took up a position on East Whitner street, in front of Evans Pharmacy No. 2, and allowed the cadets to move on up North Main street. Two companies of the cadets fell out of the passing line taking up positions on the west side of the plaza, where they later gave an exhibition musical drill, using the

MRS. STONEWALL JACKSON DEAD

WIFE OF FAMOUS CONFED-ERATE GENERAL DIES
IN CHARLOTTE

TO BE BURIED BY SIDE OF HUSBAND

Public Buildings, Schools and Business Houses Will Close on Account of Her Death

CHARLOTTE, March 24.—Mrs. T. J. ("Stonewall") Jackson, the wife of the famous Confederate general, died at her home here early today. She had been ill for many months and suffered a relapse yesterday.

Mrs. Jackson was born near Charlotte on July 21st, 1831. She was a daughter of the Rev. Robert Hall Morrison, a Presbyterian minister and the founder of Davidson college. She attended the Salem, N. C., academy and college. Her marriage took place in July, 1857.

Jackson was then a major, serving as an instructor at the Virginia military institute at Lexington. She became a close student of military tactics and always took a great interest in the fortunes of the Confederate army.

General and Mrs. Jackson had two children, both daughters. One died in infancy. The other married William E. Christian. She died in 1889.

Long illness.
Weakened by a long illness, Mrs. Jackson also received an attack of pneumonia three days ago.

She became unconscious yesterday afternoon and did not rally. Her funeral will be held here tomorrow, after which the body will be taken to Lexington, Virginia, accompanied by a military escort, where she will be buried by the side of her husband and daughter. All the public buildings, schools and business establishments will be closed here tomorrow as a tribute to Mrs. Jackson.

Sec. Daniels Orders Another Investigation

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Another investigation to determine whether the American ship yards are building submarines for European belligerents was ordered today by Secretary Daniels. Naval offices stationed at private plants on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts were directed to make inquiries and report to Washington. Secretary Daniels said tonight that similar investigations recently failed to show any work in progress for belligerents.

$500,000 PLANT TO GRIND LIMESTONE

Commissioner Watson Announces that Prospect is Good for Such an Enterprise

Special to The Intelligencer.

COLUMBIA, March 24.—That the prospects are good for the establishment of a $500,000 plant to grind limestone for agricultural purposes from the limestone and marl deposits of this State, was the statement made today by Commissioner Watson this morning. He has been in touch for three weeks with responsible and experienced parties in Michigan and all that remains is to assure them of the sufficiency of the marl and limestone deposits. The supply in this State is practically inexhaustible.

It is stated that if such a plant is established it will probably be on the Santee river about where the new railroad to Charleston crosses that stream. There are deposits of marl in both the Santee and Cooper rivers and in case such a plant is established it is predicted that the export business could be taken away from Ohio and Illinois, and that the port of Charleston would be the main gateway through which the exports would flow. Not only the marl deposits but the deposits of limestone rock abound and in one section of Laurens county there is enough deposit of limestone rock to furnish all the supply that would be needed for years, both for the home trade and for the export business, according to Mr. Watson.

There has been a movement for some time to build a plant to grind limestone to furnish the lime for agricultural purposes at prices which will be attractive to the farmers. Not only this but if such a plant is built time for commercial purposes, both for the domestic and export trade, would be manufactured.
